

August 15, 2013

The Wolf School Newsletter

Wolf News

Jessica Robins Miller steps down as Head of School after 12 years of leadership.

We'll Miss You Jessica!

Jessica Robins Miller remembers The Wolf School's early years when they rented classroom space at the Jewish Community Center in Providence. "My office was the faculty room too, so I shared space on my desk with the coffee pot, toaster and microwave!" Jessica arrived in the middle of the school's second year. Since that time she has helped orchestrate Wolf's growth from 3 children in temporary classrooms to 50 children in a permanent state-of-the-art facility and from an unknown entity to a nationally recognized special needs school.

Now, after twelve years of service, Jessica is leaving her position as Head of School. "It was the opportunity of a lifetime to help realize the vision of the founding members of Wolf. I am especially grateful to the parents from those early years who took an enormous leap of faith to enroll their children and to the faculty who came to work in a school

Quick Links

The Wolf School

Admissions

Donate Now!

Like Us On Facebook!

that was so small, new and different. Without them, we would not be where we are today."

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, Chair Scott DiChristofero expressed gratitude and accolades for Jessica's tenure. "Jessica led The Wolf School with wisdom and integrity. She has been instrumental in building Wolf into the effective and well-respected institution that it is today. The school's stability, in every respect, is due to her passion, hard work and commitment to Wolf."

The Board has appointed Anna Johnson, formerly the school's Director of Education, as Interim Head of School. According to Jessica, "Anna has been part of Wolf's development every step of the way. Wolf is perfectly positioned with Anna at its helm to embark on the next exciting chapter."

Jessica sums up her departure in a way that truly reflects the sentiment of the Wolf families and graduates who have moved on and embarked on the next phase of their journey. "Wolf has been my life for a long time, and it will remain in a special place in my heart forever."

For more information about Anna Johnson, Interim Head of School, click here.

Fun with Alums!

Check out the photos of our summer Alumnae Gathering on our Facebook Page. Over fifty graduates, family members and staff turned out at a Wolf School cookout to reminisce and catch up!

The Wolf School E-news hopes to keep you updated on our latest news, learnings and activities throughout the year.

Feel free to forward this email to friends, family, colleagues or anyone else you think might be interested in our unique educational programs for complex learners.

We hope you enjoy hearing from us, but if you would like to unsubscribe to this e-news at anytime, just click below or email Marie Esposito, Director of Institutional Advancement.

Our Mission

The Wolf School is dedicated to providing an educational environment where children with learning differences become successful, secure learners. Our intensive and integrated model enables children to discover and utilize their strengths and talents by meeting their academic, social and emotional needs.